

HULMEVILLE BORO' SCHOOL BOARD RESIGNS EN MASSE, EFFECTIVE TOMORROW; DOESN'T WANT RESPONSIBILITY FOR MOUNTING DEFICIT THROUGH COST INCREASES

Letter of Resignation Sent To County Superintendent Today

TAX RATE, MAXIMUM

Cite Tremendous Increases in Teacher Salaries, Bldg. Program, Etc.

HULMEVILLE, July 13 — Announcement is made today that the members of Hulmeville borough school board have resigned en masse, and that a letter to the county superintendent of schools, Charles Boehm, is being forwarded to him today. The resignations are effective tomorrow, July 14th. The board is composed of: President Kimbel Faust, Jesse G. Webster, T. Oscar Harrison, and Howard Black. The mass resignation was decided upon at a special meeting of the board, held July 9th.

According to board members, resignations are being tendered "chiefly because of tremendous increases in operational costs for the schools, which included necessary increases in teacher salaries, and the building program at Langhorne-Middletown high school, a portion of which Hulmeville district must bear." The directors state that rather than be responsible for a deficit which most certainly will mount each year they deemed it wise to resign.

State aid had been requested by the local board from the state board of education for "a school district in distress." Members say they were advised by a Mr. Quackenbush that in his opinion the local board would not receive such assistance. The request for aid was made after the board, in preparing the budget, found that it would be unable to meet future expenses, even in view of the fact that the tax rate had almost been doubled. The rate was advanced from 29 to 35 mills more than a month ago.

The Hulmeville board has a joint set-up with four other boards—Langhorne, Langhorne Manor and Pennell boroughs, and Middletown township. Thus a share of costs at the joint high school building at Langhorne is allocated to each district. Board members state they had practically no alternative but to enter into the joint board arrangement. If refusal was made at that time, it is stated, the local board would be faced with the problem of providing high school education for pupils in some other manner, either establishing a high school here, or paying tuition at another high school if space was available and pupils would be accepted. Local board members further point out that they have only two ways of raising necessary school funds—through taxation on real estate and through per capita tax. The law under which boards may now tax amusements would permit little revenue within the borough it is stated. "It was impossible to meet expenses without going further into debt," a board spokesman said today. "The increased tax rate will still not provide the needed funds."

The opinion is that the county board of school directors will now assume jurisdiction of local school affairs. The special meeting on Friday evening last had been called for the purpose of considering the budget, it is announced. It was during this meeting that members reached the decision to resign effective tomorrow. "Financially we cannot operate the schools. We do not have enough assistance from the state," the board announces. The tax rate

LIONS WAGE DRIVE TO CUT SPEEDING

Andalusia Group Asks For More Police Protection Along Bristol Pike

TRAFFIC VERY HEAVY

ANDALUSIA, July 13—The Lions Club of this community is waging a campaign to cut down the speed of motorists driving through the community and especially the motorists who drive along Route 13.

A survey shows that 79 trucks passed a given point in one hour on the night of June 25th. The number of pleasure cars was not tabulated as it would take a rapid calculator to enumerate them. Philadelphia continues to keep a portion of state road closed it is contended, and this with conditions existing on Route 13 has forced much traffic onto Route 13. An appeal was made to state police for additional protection, but according to the Lions, the state police are taxed with work for the number of troopers stationed at Langhorne.

Letters have been addressed to State Senator Edward B. Watson and to Representative Wilson L. Yeakel. The letter reads:

"Since opening new stretch of U. S. Highway No. 13, eliminating traffic through Bristol, it appears the section from Philadelphia to Morrisville has developed into a magnificent super speeding highway, with no regard for property or life. There appears meager inclination on part of most motorists to reduce their speed while passing through residential or business sections. The 35 miles per hour signs are almost as useless as though the state had been spared expense of purchase, installation, etc., particularly in this true past few weeks since so many trucks have switched from using U. S. No. 1.

"We have directed this matter to attention of state police, who inform us due to their 'undermanned' condition on Page Five

HULMEVILLE COUNCIL DISCUSSES ZONING

No Action Taken on Either Zoning or Building Code, However

HAVE GUEST SPEAKER

HULMEVILLE, July 13—Consideration was again given by Hulmeville borough council last evening to the matters of zoning or establishment of a building code. The question of zoning was discussed before councilmen members, at length, by Mr. Treddinick, representing the Government Consulting Service, a part of the University of Pennsylvania Institute of Local State Government. No action was taken on either possibility by the local governing body, both questions being tabled for future meetings.

Mr. Treddinick explained that the institute which he represents and which has been of aid in zoning possibilities in Middletown, Southampton and Warrington townships, and Langhorne and Doylestown boroughs, as well as in many other localities, was set up to train students, and to assist municipalities in such affairs. "Basically, zoning is a plan technique to guide the orderly development of a community—to allocate to well-rounded use the facilities therein, and to divide the community into zones for residential, commercial and other uses," he informed. He told how, by this method width of properties is controlled, also distances of buildings from a street, and in general the "load on the land," thus assuring sufficient space for air, light, etc. "It also aids in the control of parking regulations, overhead signs (preventing such from becoming a nuisance), secures safety in the matter of fire prevention, and conserves value of buildings, etc."

The setting up of a zoning commission should such plan be adopted, was gone into; preparation of ordinance for zoning and hearings on same. "The type or size of a house cannot be controlled through zoning; neither can the kind of materials, the style of architecture or the price. So zoning has its limitations. There can be controlled, however, the size of the first floor, so this in itself is quite an aid."

In the matter of the board of adjustment, appointment of which would be in connection with such plan Mr. Treddinick explained that said board "must have the welfare of the community at heart." He explained the services of such a survey offered by the organization he represents the drawing up of a tentative ordinance, the revising of same where necessary, distribution of copies of ordinance and maps to the populace, the receiving of recommendations from residents, and preparation of final report to council. Estimated cost was listed at $500.

Plans are being made to equip the new senior corps and all former members of the cadet corps are invited to attend the next get-together at the Legion Home on July 26th.

Liberal Quail Stocking Distributed in County

DOYLESTOWN, July 13—What was described by Bucks county's two game protectors, Earl Carpenter and Edward Flexler, as a "very liberal stocking" of quail, was distributed in the county yesterday, according to statements made by the two Pennsylvania Game Commission representatives at the July meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, held in the K. G. E. Building here last evening.

No figures on the total quail stocked were given, however. Delegates from 11 clubs were on hand for the meeting, with President Henry Krikory in charge of the session.

The Federation's first 500 pheasants, being raised by prison labor at the Eastern State Penitentiary, were reported in excellent condition. These birds will be distributed to member clubs for stocking during the latter part of August.

Announcement was also made that the organization's second lot of 500 day-old pheasant chicks were received last Tuesday at the prison pens. Several of these birds were lost the first few days because of the intense heat.

The quail, which were distributed by Carpenter and Flexler, were placed on two farm-game projects in the upper end of the county, one farm-game project in the lower end of the county, and some other selected sections of cover.

Reports on fishing in the county varied from mediocre to good, with the weather being the important factor in every case. The Thicketon Creek was reported as giving up a number of nice-sized bass.

The following clubs were represented at the meeting: Bristol, Bucks County, Edgely, Hilltown, Delaware Valley, Langhorne, Morrisville, Palesboro, Yardley, Great Swamp, and Tru-Sport.

COUNCIL NAMES L. JOYCE ACTING BOROUGH ENGINEER

Livingston Joyce to Assume New Duties At Once

OTHER BORO' AFFAIRS

Delinquent Tax Collector Is Named and Pavement Widths Discussed

Borough council last night named an acting borough engineer, took steps to formulate a bicycle ordinance, named a delinquent tax collector, approved an ordinance vacating 13 feet width on Water street and voted out the "no smoking" ban which has been effective in the borough council chamber since 1927.

There were only two absentees of the membership, Mitchener, who is ill but now recovering, and Wicher.

President Charles G. Rathke at the convening of council named Councilmen Hyers, Smoyer, Hetherington, Eagan and Gosline members of a committee to attend a meeting of representatives of boroughs in Bucks county to consider forming an association of boroughs. A meeting is to be held in Doylestown on Tuesday evening, July 27th.

A committee consisting of Councilmen Hyers, Hetherington, Wicher, Alta, Myers, Gosline, Roche, Eagan, Riley, Ferry, Smoyer and Pearson was named to fill the vacancy in the office of borough engineer created by the resignation of John S. Roberts, Jr., which becomes effective September 1st.

President Rathke suggested that both of the above-named committees meet and organize and proceed with their work.

Upon the suggestion of President Rathke a motion was adopted that Livingston Joyce be named acting borough engineer, effective at once. All committees are to work with Mr. Joyce. This was done, President Rathke said, so as not to "make Mr. Roberts work up to the very last minute."

The fixing of Joyce's salary was referred to the finance committee.

Police reported four arrests. Three were fined and one held for court. There were 114 lodgers sheltered, four doors found unlocked, eight street lights reported out. The radio car answered 161 alarms and the Bristol township radio car answered 36 alarms. The Bristol police car was driven 3569 miles and there were 115 parking meter violations. The collections from the parking meters totaled $837.13. Five dogs were caught and destroyed by police officers, one bicycle was found and returned, one missing person was located and returned and there were 54 notices delivered to councilmen and 39 notices were delivered to property owners to cut weeds. First-aid was given to two persons and police conducted 38 escorts. One person was found dead and one horse was found at large, caught and returned. Three messages were delivered and eight auto accidents were investigated in which three persons were injured and five properties damaged. Twenty

He Now Knows His Birds

By "The Stroller"

A local man found out that in doing a good deed the repercussions are many fold, and not all good. The other day a small bird had fallen from a tree and had no visible means of returning to its nest. Our hero noting the plight of the small fowl decided to return the bird to its nest.

What he didn't notice was the parents of the little feathered founding were in the tree directly above calling (in bird language) words of encouragement to the lost member of the family. Our chivalrous friend approached the bird (he had no salt shaker for he knew the bird couldn't fly), with the intention of picking it up and placing it on a low limb of the tree.

He stooped to pick up the feathered baby when suddenly from the tree came a loud screeching noise and a feathered ball of fire came darting downward in the direction of our hero. He ducked just in time as the parent bird zoomed by swifter than a dive bomber. As the bird circled to make a return trip our valiant friend made a quick run for the nearest doorway just in time to avoid the second attack. All he could say in his haven of safety was, "Boy Scouts must have an awful tough time of it."

Letter of Resignation Sent To County Superintendent Today

Cite Tremendous Increases in Teacher Salaries, Bldg.
Program, Etc.

HULMEVILLE, July 13—Announcement is made today that the members of Hulmeville borough school board have resigned en masse, and that a letter to advising the Bucks County superintendent of schools, Charles Boehm, is being forwarded to him today. The resignations are effective tomorrow.
The board is composed of: President Kimbel Faust, Jesse G. Webster, T. Oscar Harrison, and Howard Black. The mass resignation was decided upon at a special meeting of the board, held July 9th.

According to board members, the resignations are being tendered "chiefly because of tremendous increases in operational costs for the schools, which included necessary increases in teacher salaries, and the building program at Langhorne-Middletown high school, a portion of which Hulmeville district must bear." The directors state that rather than be responsible for a deficit which most certainly will mount each year they deemed it wise to resign.

State aid had been requested by the local board from the state board of education for "a school district in distress." Members say they were advised by a Mr. Quackenbush that in his opinion the local board would not receive such assistance. The request for aid was made after the board, in preparing the budget, found that it would be unable to meet future expenses, even in view of the fact that the tax rate had almost been doubled. The rate was advanced from 29 to 35 mills more than a month ago.

The Hulmeville board has a joint set-up with four other boards—Langhorne, Langhorne Manor and Pennel boroughs, and Middletown township. Thus a share of costs at the joint high school building at Langhorne is allocated to each district. Board members state they had practically no alternative but to enter into the joint board arrangement. If refusal was made at that time, it is stated, the local board would be faced with the problem of providing high school education for pupils in some other manner.

Under which boards may now tax amusements would permit little revenue within the borough it is stated. "It was impossible to meet expenses without going further into debt," a board spokesman said today. "The increased tax rate will still not provide the needed funds."

The opinion is that the county board of school directors will now assume jurisdiction of local school affairs.

The special meeting on Friday evening last had been called for the purpose of considering the budget. It is announced. It was during this meeting that members reached the decision to resign effective tomorrow. "Financially we cannot operate the schools. We do not have enough assistance from the state," the board announces. The tax rate

Andalusia Group Asks For More Police Protection
Along Bristol Pike

ANDALUSIA, July 13—The Lions Club of this community is waging a campaign to cut down the speed of motorists driving through the community and especially the motorists who drive along Route 13.

A survey shows that 79 trucks passed a given point in one hour on the night of June 25th. The number of pleasure cars was not tabulated as it would take a rapid calculator to enumerate them. Philadelphia continues to keep a portion of state road closed it is contended, and this with conditions existing on Route 1 has forced much traffic onto Route 13. An appeal was made to state police for additional protection, but according to the Lions, the state police are taxed with work for the number of troopers stationed at Langhorne.

Letters have been addressed to State Senator Edward B. Watson and to Representative Wilson L.
Yeakel. The letter reads:

"Since opening new stretch of U. S. Highway No. 13, eliminating traffic through Bristol, it appears the section from Philadelphia to Morrisville has developed into a magnificent super speeding highway; with no regard for property or life. There appears meager inclination on part of most motorists to reduce their speed while passing through residential or business sections. The 35 miles per hour signs are almost as useless as though the state had been spared expense of purchase, installation, etc.; particularly is this true past few weeks since so many trucks have switched from using U. S. No. 1.

"We have directed this matter to attention of state police, who inform us due to their 'undermanned' conditions on Page Five

No Action Taken on Either Zoning or Building
Code, However

HULMEVILLE, July 13—Consideration was again given by Hulme-ville borough council last evening to the matters of zoning or establishment of a building code. The question of zoning was discussed before councilman members, attended by Mr. Tredinnick, representing the Government Consulting Service, a part of the University of Pennsylvania Institute of Local State Government. No action was taken on either possibility by the local governing body, both questions being tabled for future meetings.

Mr. Tredinnick explained that the institute which he represents and which has been of aid in zoning possibilities in Middletown, Southampton and Warrington townships and Langhorne and Doylestown boroughs, as well as in many other localities, was set up to train students and to assist municipalities in such affairs. "Basically, zoning is a plan technique to guide the orderly development of a community—to allocate to well-rounded use the facilities therein, and to divide the community into zones for residential, commercial and other uses," he informed. He told how, by this method, width of properties is controlled, also distances of buildings from a street, and in general the "load on the land," thus assuring sufficient space for air, light, etc. "It also aids in the control of parking regulations, overhanging signs (preventing such from becoming a nuisance); secures safety in the matter of fire prevention, and conserves value of buildings, etc."

The setting up of a zoning commission, should such plan be adopted, was gone into; preparation of ordinance for zoning and hearings on same. "The type or size of a house cannot be controlled through zoning; neither can the kind of materials, the style of architecture or the price. So zoning has its limitations. There can be controlled, however, the size of the first floor, so this in itself is quite an aid."

In the matter of the board of adjustment, appointment of which would be in connection with such plan, Mr. Tredinnick explained that said board "must have the welfare of the community at heart." He explained the services of such a survey offered by the organization he represents—the drawing up of a tentative ordinance, the revising of same where necessary, distribution of copies of ordinance and maps to the populace, the receiving of recommendations from residents, and preparation of final report to council. Estimated cost was listed at $500.

Cadet Alumni Ass'n Makes Good Showing

After a short meeting of the Bristol Cadet Alumni Association held last night at the Bracken Post of the American Legion, the members adjourned to the yard of the post and with borrowed drums and bugles, proceeded to show that they could still bring music out of them.
Their music and marching was pleasing to a large group of spectators.

"With a little practice, this new senior drum and bugle corps will be ready for competition with the best in the land and should, in a short time, be in the top three positions," was the comment.

Plans are being made to equip the new senior corps and all former members of the cadet corps are invited to attend the next get-together at the Legion Home on July 26th.

Liberal Quail Stocking Distributed in County

DOYLESTOWN, July 13—What was described by Bucks county's two game protectors, Earl Carpenter and Edward Flexler, as a "very liberal stocking" of quail, was distributed in the county yesterday, according to statements made by the two Pennsylvania Game Commission representatives at the July meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, held in the K. G. E. Building here last evening.

No figures on the total quail stocked were given, however.
Delegates from 11 clubs were on hand for the meeting, with President Henry Krikory in charge of the session.

The Federation's first 500 pheasants, being raised by prison labor at the Eastern State Penitentiary, were reported in excellent condition. These birds will be distributed to member clubs for stocking during the latter part of August.

Announcement was also made that the organization's second lot of 500 day-old pheasant chicks were received last Tuesday at the prison pens. Several of these birds were lost the first few days because of the intense heat.

The quail, which were distributed by Carpenter and Flexler, were placed on two farm-game projects in the upper end of the county, one farm-game project in the lower end of the county, and some other selected sections of cover.

Reports on fishing in the county varied from mediocre to good, with the weather being the important factor in every case. The Tohickon Creek was reported as giving up a number of nice-sized bass.

The following clubs were represented at the meeting: Bristol, Bucks County, Edgely, Hilltown, Delaware Valley, Langhorne, Morrisville, Palletown, Yardley, Great Swamp, and Tru-Sport.

COUNCIL NAMES L. JOYCE ACTING BOROUGH ENGINEER

Livingston Joyce to Assume New Duties At Once

Delinquent Tax Collector Is Named and Pavement
Widths Discussed

Borough council last night named an acting borough engineer, took steps to formulate a bicycle ordinance, named a delinquent tax collector, approved an ordinance vacating 13 feet width on Water street and voted out the "no smoking" ban which has been effective in the borough council chamber since 1927.

There were only two absentees of the membership, Mitchener, who is ill but now recovering, and Wisner.

President Charles G. Rathke at the convening of council named Councilmen Byers, Smoyer, Hetherington, Egan and Gossline members of a committee to attend a meeting of representatives of boroughs in Bucks county to consider forming an association of boroughs.
A meeting is to be held in Doylestown on Tuesday evening, July 27th.

A committee consisting of Councilmembers Byers, Hetherington, Wisner, Alta, Myers, Gossline, Roche, Egan, Riley, Ferry, Smoyer and Pearson was named to fill the vacancy in the office of borough engineer created by the resignation of John S. Roberts, Jr., which becomes effective September 1st.

President Rathke suggested that both of the above-named committees meet and organize and proceed with their work.

Upon the suggestion of President Rathke a motion was adopted that Livingston Joyce be named acting borough engineer, effective at once.
All committees are to work with Mr.
Joyce. This was done. President Rathke said, so as not to "make Mr. Roberts work up to the very last minute."

The fixing of Joyce's salary was referred to the finance committee.

Police reported four arrests.
Three were fined and one held for court. There were 114 lodgers sheltered, four doors found unlocked, eight street lights reported out. The radio car answered 161 alarms and the Bristol township radio car answered 36 alarms. The Bristol police car was driving 3550 miles and there were 115 parking meter violations. The collections from the parking meters totaled $837.13. Five dogs were caught and destroyed by police officers, one bicycle was found and returned, one missing person was located and returned and there were 54 notices delivered to councilmen and 39 notices were delivered to property owners to cut weeds. First-aid was given to two persons and police conducted 38 escorts. One person was found dead and one horse was found at large, caught and returned. Three messages were delivered and eight auto accidents were investigated in which three persons were injured and five properties damaged. Twen-

He Now Knows His Birds By "The Stroller"

A local man found out that in doing a good deed the repercussions are many fold, and not all good. The other day a small bird had fallen from a tree and had no visible means of returning to its nest. Our hero noting the plight of the small fowl decided to return the bird to its nest.

What he didn't notice was the parents of the little feathered foundling were in the tree directly above calling (in bird language) words of encouragement to the lost member of the family. Our chivalrous friend approached the bird (he had no salt shaker for he knew the bird couldn't fly), with the intention of picking it up and placing it on a low limb of the tree.

He stooped to pick up the feathered baby when suddenly from the tree came a loud screaming noise and a feathered ball of fire came darting downward in the direction of our hero. He ducked just in time as the parent bird zoomed by swifter than a dive bomber. As the bird circled to make a return trip our valiant friend made a quick run for the nearest doorway just in time to avoid the second attack. All he could say in his haven of safety was,
"Boy Scouts must have an awful tough time of it."

"HYPNOTIZED" CUSTOMERS

"Hypnotic" store designs are
the latest development in this brave new world. This is disclosed by Morris Lapidus, chairman of the committee of the American Institute of Architects, working with the second annual Store Modernization Show in Grand

The term is used to describe store interiors planned to guide consumers to the best selling locations by subtle suggestions in the form of tricks in design, displays, lighting effects, directional markings and other influences that "hypnotize" the shopper into going where the retailer wants
him to go.

Cripes, that is nothing new.
The first merchandiser hundreds of thousands of years ago used all these devices, in the forms available to him, although he didn't think of them in terms of "hypo-tizing" the customer.

IT'S THE HUMID HIVES

Apiarists say it isn't just the heat, it's mostly the humidity.
New Yorkers were troubled last week by swarms of bees, and the official explanation is that when a hive becomes too humid in warm weather, some of the tenants get together, promote themselves a new queen, and fly off on an apartment-hunting mission.

Like most apartment hunters nowadays, they don't find a place right away. So they find some ledge to rest on. There they cling together in a squirming ball, well armed for chemical warfare, and stay a while thinking it over.

In one instance a swarm selected a spot over the doorway of an ambulance company. The manager shut up shop and asked police to do something about it.
Police declined with thanks. A
candy store owner tried to help
by putting some chocolate syrup
in a box to entice the bees away.
The bees turned up their prosopides at it. Around closing time they took off for another objective.

Most persons can sympathize with the poor little things. Anybody who likes humidity must be a bee, and anybody, if he were a bee, would get pretty sick of hunting for flowers in New York.

Maybe what the bees need is a union. Then they could go in for slower production of honey and
go on strike for more flowers and
more comfortable living quarters.
A mass picket line of bees would
be almost as difficult to pass as a CIO blockade.

Isn't it lucky bees aren't as smart as people?

Hulmeville Council
Discusses Zoning

The guest speaker was introduced by council president, Samuel J.
Hillick. Other councilmen present were: Raymond VanArman, Edward Vansant, Ned Moyer, and George Hillick. The minutes were read by Mrs. Edward Hillick.

Information received from Doyle-town borough officials gave date of a dinner for Tuesday, July 27th, in connection with possible formation
of an Association of Bucks County Gourmets. The place is Doylestown Inn. Reservations are to be made by the secretary for Messrs. Hillick, VanArman and Hillick.

Highway committee report included complaints on poor drainage facilities at certain spots, Neshaminy street, Trenton avenue and at intersection of Trenton avenue and Main street. The secretary was instructed to refer such to the State Highway Department. The same department is to be asked to make more secure the highway direction sign at the intersection of Trenton
and Bellevue avenues.

Complaint was received through Bureau Leon R. Conly that a resident had been slightly injured by a retaining wall which overhangs the sidewalk of the Walker apartment property, Bellevue avenue. Council reported no reply to two notifications sent the Smith Agency, about such alleged menace. At the same property the state fire marshal, it was reported, had inspected a barn in the process of being razed. Both matters are to be referred to proper authorities.

Complaint was made by one councilman that following permission
of council for Wm. Penn Fire Co. to close off portion of Green street for a fire company benefit, motorcyclists had insisted on riding through area closed off by flames while groups were congregated in the street.
Licenses numbers having been secured, council decided to have summons issued for offending party by a local justice of the peace.

Constable Orville Morris having reported that he has not sufficient

time to give to cases of speeding through the borough, the police committee was given power to en-

"Hypnotic" store designs are
the latest development in this
brave new world. This is dis-
closed by Morris Lapidus, chair-
man of the committee of the American Institute of Architects, working with the second annual Store

The term is used to describe
store interiors planned to guide
consumers to the best selling locations by subtle suggestions in
the form of tricks in design, displays, lighting effects, directional markings and other influences that "hypnotize" the shopper into going where the retailer wants
him to go.

Cripes, that is nothing new.
The first merchandiser hundreds of thousands of years ago used all these devices, in the forms available to him, although he didn't think of them in terms of "hypno-tizing" the customer.

Apiarists say it isn't just the
heat, it's mostly the humidity.
New Yorkers were troubled last
week by swarms of bees, and the
hive becomes too humid in warm weather, some of the tenants get together, promote themselves a new queen, and fly off on
an apartment-hunting mission.

Like most apartment hunters,
right away. So they find some
ledge to rest on. There they cling
stay a while thinking it over.

lected a spot over the doorway of
an ambulance company. The manager shut up shop and asked
police to do something about it.
Police declined with thanks. A
candy store owner tried to help
by putting some chocolate syrup
in a box to entice the bees away.
The bees turned up their proposals at it. Around closing time they took off for another objective.

Most persons can sympathize
crazy. And anybody, if he were a bee, would get pretty sick of hunting for flowers in New York.
Maybe what the bees need is a union. Then they could go in for slower production of honey and
go on strike for more flowers and
more comfortable living quarters.
A mass picket line of bees would
be almost as difficult to pass as a CIO blockade.

Isn't it funny bees aren't as
smart as people?

Information received from Doylestown borough officials gave date of a dinner for Tuesday, July 27th, in connection with possible formation
of an Association of Bucks County Boroughs. The place is Doylestown
Inn. Reservations are to be made by the secretary for Messrs. Hillick, VanArtsdalen and Hillick.

Highway committee report included complaints on poor drainage facilities at certain spots, Neshaun-ing street, Trenton avenue and at intersection of Trenton avenue and Main street. The secretary was in-
structed to refer such to the State Highway Department. The same department is to be asked to make
sign at the intersection of Trenton
and Bellevue avenues.

Complaint was received through Burgess Leon R. Conly that a resident had been slightly injured by a
retaining wall which overhangs the
sidewalk of the Walker apartment
property, Bellevue avenue. Council
reported no reply to two notifica-
such alleged menace. At the same property the state fire marshal, if it was reported, had inspected a barn
in the process of being razed. Both
matters are to be referred to proper
authorities.

Complaint was made by one coun-
of council for Wm. Penn Fire Co. to
close off portion of Green street for a fire company benefit, motorcycleists
had insisted on riding through area closed off by flares while groups were congregated in the street.
License numbers having been secured, council decided to have sum-
mons issued for offending party by
a local justice of the peace.

Constable Orville Morris has

through the borough, the police
committee was given power to engage services of a special officer.
Report from borough treasurer, Miss Grace H. Illick, showed balance of $2,809.55. Bills ordered paid included: Ferdinand Reetz, collection of garbage, trash and also street repairs, $57.50; Philadelphia Electric Co., $91.75; Stockert & Dickens, amplifier for Memorial Day exercises, $3; care of Memorial Park, $20; Bensalem Twp. board of supervisors, tax, $22; Langhorne Spring Water Co., $6; George M.
Dickens, commissions as tax collector, $78; Mrs. Walter Jackson, Mrs. Eugene Anderson, Miss Clara L. Illick, auditors' fees, $21. Auditors' report was accepted.

Council was informed that releases for properties on Lincoln avenue have all been secured, preparatory to the borough accepting that street.

The Hibernians moved to within a few points of third place in the Bristol Suburban loop with a 12-2 win over the Lewis Lodge of Elks last evening on Leedom's field.

"Bill" Coates, lanky Hibs' twirler, held the Lewis Lodge to five scattered blows while the Hibs shelled "Bill" Dunkelberger, Keyes, Johnson and Thompson for a total of 13 hits, bringing their total of 31 in two games.

LEGION JUNIORS WHITEWASHED FOR 2ND TIME

QUAKERTOWN, July 13 — The Bristol Junior Legion team was whitewashed for the second time this season last evening as the Bristolians bowled to the Quakertown Junior Legion, 11-0, on the high school field.

One hit was all the Bristol team could get off Slotted, the Quakertown hurler, who pitched no-hit ball for five innings. In the sixth, Harmon hit a roller which took a top over the third baseman's head for a single.

LANGHORNE PLAYER PICKED FOR ALL-STAR IX

Armand "Army" Fissano, third-sacker for the Langhorne Junior Legion team, was among the four players picked to represent the East in the East-West All-Star Junior Legion game to be played in the near future at Shibe Park. Fissano was the only Lower Bucks County player to be picked at Quakertown on Saturday. The Langhorne High School student also plays third base for the Langhorne Legion (senior team) in the Bristol Suburban League.

Two Doylestown Junior Legion players were also picked. Frederick Link, center fielder, and William Carter, third baseman, were the county-seaters chosen.

The Bucks-Montgomery game at Quakertown was played with "Jojo" Collins and John Gillespie managing the Phillies and Chief "Al" Bender and "Lena" Blackburn handling the A's. The quartet are major league scouts.

CLIFF LA BAR PILOTS WAR BABY TO VICTORY

After a two weeks lapse in racing in home waters because of the setbacks at Riverton, N. J., the skipper from the Lakewood Boat Club, Burlington, N. J., went out Sunday in a twenty-mile-an-hour wind and sailed two races.

The first race was a Duster class contest over 4½ miles of rough water. The winner was Cliff LaBar who piloted "War Baby" over the course in 1 hour 5 minutes. Second place went to Pete Ross, while LaBar took third place.

The second race of the afternoon was the initial race in the Handicap series. This race was sailed over a five-mile course in a wind which was the heaviest of the season. Winner of this race with an elapsed time of 53 minutes was John Dods with the "E" sloop "Gismo." Second place was taken by Joe Cherubini while Cliff LaBar finished third.

COOPER ON MOUND PITCHES TIE GAME

"Jimmy" Cooper, erstwhile third baseman, went into the role of a hurler last evening and pitched Volts-Texaco to a 7-7 tie over the Democrat Club on Memorial Park field in a Suburban League tilt.

Although nickered for 9 hits, Cooper was tight in the pinches and after the third inning settled down to allow but one run and five hits. He was wild in the early stages of the game, and in the second was solved for a home run with two on base by Dave Weikley.

Joe Sagolla pitched for the Democrat Club.

Council Names Joyce Acting Boro' Engineer

ty-four juvenile bicycle riders were warned by the police for violations. One arrest was made for operating an automobile without a license and the person fined; one arrested for speeding, and fined; and one arrested for misuse of auto tags, and fined.

The report was ordered received and filed.

Councilman Alta asked that the ordinance committee consider drafting an ordinance licensing and regulating bicycles. The present ordinance was enacted in 1859. President Rathke asked that the suggestions of the committee be made in writing to the ordinance committee. He was informed by Alta that the committee has a sample ordinance.

It was reported by Councilman Ritey that there are over 2200 names on the 1947 delinquent tax list, representing about one-sixth of the borough's population. "Some of these may be errors, duplications, removals, etc.," he said. He asked that Tax Collector William H. H. Fine be named delinquent tax collector and that the committee be given the right to post the names in the municipal building where the public can see them. Mr. Fine was named and the committee was given the authority requested.

William H. Pearson in reporting for the street and highway committee said:

"The following projects were completed during the month of June, 1948:

"1—Concrete apron, curbs and gutters at the Beaver and Prospect streets crossing.

"2—Concrete apron, curbs, gutter and inlet at the Beaver and Mansion streets crossing.

"3—Concrete apron, gutter and curb at Gorson and Plum streets (alley), alongside the Hibernian Hall.

"4—Concrete apron, curb and gutter at the alley on Mansion street in the rear of Jefferson avenue.

"5—Apron on alley in rear of church at Lincoln avenue and Wood street.

"The work of patching and cleaning of the borough streets by the temporary crew is being continued.

"Several complaints have been received by this committee regarding the poor condition of street openings after plumbers have made repairs. The street and highway committee has had to spend considerable time and money correcting this condition, even though the responsibility should lie with the plumbers involved.

"The weed condition is becoming serious again and since there is some conflict regarding enforcement of this particular ordinance Council should decide now which committee is going to be responsible for enforcement."

The report was signed:

Street and Highway Dept.
Wm. H. Pearson, chairman;
John Wiesner,
Francis Byers,
John Raccagno,
James W. Eagan.

Councilman John Smoyer, 3rd, brought to the attention of council the condition in which some of the plumbers are leaving the streets after opening them. This was discussed and it was decided that the plumbers are to be compelled to make the required refill of ditches.

There was a discussion about which committee of council should obtain the names of weed ordinance violators. It appears that this has been required of the police committee and it contends that the names should be obtained by the street and highway committee and then given to the police committee so as to notify the property owners. It was stated that obtaining the names requires too much time of the police officers.

It was voted to extend water and sewer facilities to Wood street extension and also to Second avenue and Silver Lake front.

Councilman Louis C. Spring asked council's approval of a lease for the ground on which the Hibernian Marble Yard is located. The rent being fixed at $200 a year. He also informed council that the house at the Lock near Mill street has been rented for $20 per month for three years and the tenant to make certain improvements which are to become part of the property. Both matters were reported from the Recreation Board of which Mr. Spring is chairman.

Mr. Spring also reported progress of negotiations for a strip of land which extends into the borough parking lot. An agreement is being negotiated and is expected to be consummated soon.

The ordinance vacating a strip of Water street was adopted without a dissenting vote. The strip of land is about 13 feet wide and will permit the Bristol Trust Company to set a proposed new building back in line with other properties on Radcliffe street.

There was much discussion about the ordinance regulating the width of pavements and it was suggested that the ordinance committee and the street and highway committee get together and draft a new ordinance. The suggestion was approved.

Councilman Alta asked for a deficiency appropriation of $1770.29 for the police committee and Councilman Pearson asked for a deficiency appropriation of $5,000 for the street committee. Both requests were granted.

Upon a motion of Councilman Smoyer council voted to permit smoking in the council chamber, a rule which has been effective since council started meeting in the present municipal building. The motion also provided that ash trays be provided for the councilmen and guests. This brought forth a comment from President Rathke that "this room is not to be used as a hall" and suggesting that smokers safeguard against littering the floor and desks.

A letter from State Welfare Department approved the municipal lock-up but suggested changes in the feeding of prisoners.

As a matter of information Councilman Hetherington asked if the borough's water supply is adequate for the new industries locating in the area and also for others which might seek locations here. He was informed that the capacity of the plant will be exhausted to care for the present industries and those now building here. It was suggested by Hetherington that a competent authority be obtained to make a study of the situation. President Rathke at once named Hetherington chairman of the water committee but he declined the post due to a lack of time from his business affairs.

A petition received from residents on Radcliffe street, between Market and Mulberry, protesting against the proposed installation of parking meters, was received, read and filed.
